

Debbie,
Truli has turned out to be a real sweetheart and smart Cookie!

She has already mastered sit, shake, stay, lay down and heel. Is great on the leash and loves long long walks. For the most part she does a good job going potty outside, it's a minor work in progress. She loves going for rides in the car but not getting into the car, go figure that one out.

She sleeps in a good size crate with lots of blankets and toys when we have to go out and at night, but otherwise is able to enjoy the whole house without damaging anything so far! Loves to chew on shoes but not leave a single mark - Houdini! Loves to play fetch and returns the item you throw.

She isn't a barker unless our May doesn't want to play and then she uses it to convince her, doesn't really work. She doesn't bite unless it is Mays rump, again to encourage play...

Truli is great with the cat and other animals when she meets them out and about.

All in all, she has made a great addition to our family and we look forward to many wonderful years of fun and love. Thank you for the gift!

Our best,
The Kreilings
